

TOMB OF STURDY OAK WILL BE IN MEMORIAL SHAFT

Hindenburg's Wish Will be Ignored by German Government

Berlin, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The German government decided finally today that the late President Paul von Hindenburg will be entombed in the memorial at Tannenberg instead of on the grounds of his estate at Neudeck where he had expressed the wish to lie.

A death parade in which more than 100,000 persons may have a last look at the late President is being planned as a part of the funeral exercises Tuesday at the memorial monument.

The march, which possibly will last all through the night, will pass through the "Hindenburg tower" of the monument where the coffin will be placed following the official services.

300,000 Expected
More than 300,000 spectators are expected to attend the services but officials regarded it as doubtful if all of them, even if they march three or four abreast, can be accommodated on the opportunity to pass the bier.

Every city, town and village of the Reich is expected to participate in the services at Tannenberg. The funeral oration to be delivered by Chancellor Adolf Hitler will be broadcasted worldwide.

Throughout the country, moreover, Nazi storm troopers will engage in the solemn funeral parade between 11 A. M. and noon Tuesday. The nation's activity will be slowed down to a virtual stop. There will be a complete one-minute pause at 11:45 A. M.

Old Prussian Custom
In the Tannenberg monument, the President's coffin will stand during the services in a room the floor of which will be covered with white sand sprinkled with oak twigs in accordance with Prussian custom.

In the inner courtyard, fronting a high cross which designates the burial place of 20 soldiers who were killed in the Battle of Tannenberg in 1914, will be massed 50 old regimental flags.

Three sacrificial fires, billowing out clouds of black smoke, symbolic of grief, will burn steadily in front of the monument, the eight towers of which will be covered with black and oak branches as well as draped in black flags. Several of the nation's foremost artists are supervising the decoration of the monument for the occasion.

Guests Stay in Tents
Four thousand privileged guests, including foreign diplomats, will have places inside the monument during the funeral services. Because of a lack of hotels, they will be accommodated overnight—as will many other spectators—in hundreds of special tents.

Meanwhile, thousands of workmen were hastily deployed at Tannenberg to increase the telephone communications, set up radio broadcasting apparatus, and erect the black-draped tribune from which the final rites for von Hindenburg will be conveyed to the whole world.

Reichstag Summoned
Hitler, seeking to consolidate his position as the "new Napoleon," summoned the all-Nazi Reichstag today to assemble Monday for a memorial service to the late President.

Hitler's address, a chancellery spokesman intimated, will be of a political nature, with a direct eulogy of von Hindenburg reserved for the funeral services Tuesday at Tannenberg.

To Justify Action
Because of the unusual circumstances of his coup d'etat, whereby he merged the offices of president and chancellor, Hitler, was believed to be intending to seize the occasion to justify his assumption of the powers of a monarch.

The Reichstag rostrum der Fuehrer is expected to utilize what may be his best opportunity to justify in a guarded way to the German people and the world his precipitate action of Thursday, immediately after von Hindenburg's death.

Hitler's last appearance before the Reichstag was July 13 when he defended to Germany and the world his bloody purging of Nazi ranks June 30.

Seeks U. S. Approval
Displaying a lively interest in world reaction to the situation, Hitler is understood to be especially desirous of having America understand his motive and plan.

Some believe he will give assurances that this accession to complete domination does not mean a more radical political program.

The speech is anticipated as a political document of unique importance, revealing the course of Hitler's future leadership. Some observers wondered if this leadership might not take Hitler to a throne, comparing his steps to those of Napoleon.

Limits Opportunity
In designating Aug. 19 as the date of a plebiscite in which he hopes to gain the approval of the German nation for his acquisition of new power, Hitler has sharply limited his opportunities for effective plea for votes.

The period of national mourning for the late president will extend to Aug. 14. In the interests of good taste, it was pointed out, Hitler cannot campaign too obviously for public favor, making it necessary to seek indirect methods.

The personal oath of allegiance to Hitler, taken by the army and navy, also was administered secretly Thursday to the Schutz Staffeln.

EVANSTON MAN SHOOT WOMAN AND THEN SELF

Married Man Renewed Quarrel With Divorcee in Chicago

Chicago, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Renewing a quarrel which a few hours earlier had been halted by the police, a man identified as Henry J. Haugh of Evanston today shot and killed Mrs. June Barton, 38, beauty shop owner, and then committed suicide.

Edward Barton, 13, son of the slain woman said the dead man was known to him as "Jimmy Jones" who had been keeping company with his mother for two years. They had quarreled frequently, he said.

Police Sergeant Joseph Schoenfeldt and his squad had smoothed out an earlier dispute between the pair in an automobile outside the hotel. They forced him to leave the car and Mrs. Barton went to her room. A few hours later the man returned, called Mrs. Barton to the lobby and the quarrel was resumed. Suddenly he drew a pistol, shot the woman, then himself.

Mrs. Barton was divorced nine years ago. Haugh is survived by his widow.

TRUCK DRIVER USES SHOTGUN TO SAVE TRUCK

First Violence in Several Days in Minneapolis Strike

Minneapolis, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Gunfire stilled the downtown district today when an ice cream truck driver sent two strike pickets fleeing with wounds from his vehicle.

Twenty pickets, defying the National Guard stationed only three blocks away, swarmed over the truck while Leo Holscher, the truck driver, was in a nearby building.

He returned to seize a shotgun, squeeze the trigger and drive the attackers off. Earl Collins and George Schirz, with minor buckshot wounds, later were admitted to a hospital.

Neither was seriously wounded. Drove Marauders Off. Two bricks had been hurled through the windshield of the truck, ice cream containers were being scattered on the street and the pickets were jerking out wiring in the ignition system when Holscher appeared to drive off the marauders.

It was the first outbreak of violence in the several days, sporadic disturbances the previous days being confined to stopping trucks, overturning them in a few instances and sometimes beating drivers.

The outbreak followed the death last night of Alfred Israelson, 25. He died of injuries suffered when the car in which he was riding was struck by a squad car of the National Guard. The guardsmen, answering a trouble call, ran through a traffic signal Tuesday.

The driver of the car in which Israelson rode, Carl Wallin, was killed outright. Olson Rescinds Order Word that federal mediators were nearing a settlement of the strike prompted Governor Floyd B. Olson to rescind early today a closing streets to all commercial trucks except those carrying necessities.

Olson's action followed a raid on offices of the Citizens' Alliance by National Guardsmen under his express command.

The chief executive said afterward he was going "to investigate reports that the Citizens' Alliance had imported agents provocateur in connection with the drivers' walkout."

To Study Papers. Evidence seized in the raid, Olson said, would be studied to establish, if possible, the truth of these reports. Papers and records were taken from the Citizens' Alliance offices after the troopers had been in possession for three hours.

He issued a statement declaring that the evidence "corroborates my charge that a Citizens' Alliance clique dominates and controls the actions of the employers' advisory committee—that it maintains a considerable number of stool pigeons in various labor unions."

Though the governor rescinded his street restriction order soon after it was to have become effective at one minute past last midnight, he qualified his withdrawal by announcing if "final settlement is not reached by Sunday night I will issue the order effective Sunday."

Block of Grand Stand Seats for Cubs-Giants Double Header Aug. 26 to Be Secured for Dixon Fans

Arrangements are to be made to secure a block of seats at Wrigley field, the Cub park in Chicago, for baseball fans of Dixon and vicinity for the double header between the Cubs and the New York Giants Sunday, Aug. 26, which will be Dixon day at the Century of Progress. With the announcement of the Northwestern's low excursion, sponsored by the Brown Shoe Co., and the Dixon Chamber of Commerce, many inquiries have been received from those who would prefer to attend the double header between the National League leaders.

'NO MAN'S LAND' IN NEW ORLEANS IS QUIET TODAY

March Up and Down 'Terrible' Zone

Wisecracking Citizens

New Orleans, Aug. 4.—(AP)—No man's land in New Orleans' political war on is in the hands of the spectators today, with the only exchanges the repartee of passersby about the "terrible bloodless war."

Swords rattled in their scabbards, machine guns and rifles remained mute. Generalissimo Huey P. Long gravely announced he was going "on a fishing trip."

There was grinning in the machine guns of National Guardsmen called out by Senator Long and Governor O. K. Allen, and a potential menace in the rifles of Mayor T. Semmes Walmesley's special police, but the martial atmosphere ended there.

The troops were fortified in the martial law one of the city registration voting office. The mayor's forces swarmed in the city hall just across the street.

Citizens Derisive Derelicts still slept peacefully on benches in quiet Lafayette square, and broadly smiling citizens moved up and down the battle zone in the street making derisive wisecracks.

But all the time, Walmesley said, the Guardsmen were busy in the registration office scratching from the books the names of citizens who would vote in the September congressional primary, in which both he and Long are supporting candidates.

Long countered simply by explaining that he was protecting the voting books from unlawful raids by Walmesley and cleaning up the city's "vice and corruption" at the same time.

Delay Court Fight Meanwhile, Walmesley forces delayed an attempt to secure contempt of court citations which would send to jail Senator Long and Adjutant General Raymond H. Fleming, commander of the militia.

The district court order issued yesterday, commanding Long and Fleming to dismiss the troops, was still in force, but so were the troops.

Long said he had gone to Baton Rouge in accordance with the court order and had commanded Governor Allen, his lieutenant, to demobilize the guardsmen.

"Governor Allen told me to go to hell," the Senator laughingly explained. Trucks bristling with arms thronged up to the registration office last night, adding steel helmets, gas masks and gas bombs to the machine gun and rifle equipment already there.

Playing the game according to the rules established in the last six days, Mayor Walmesley countered by rushing 300 special police into the city hall.

Increase in Dental Rates for Relief Client Hits Snag

Chicago, Aug. 4.—(AP)—A proposal to boost Illinois' dental bill for relief clients ran into a stumbling block today.

Under fire by members of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission yesterday, action on the proposal for higher fees was deferred.

Under the plan now in operation, the commission pays approximately $8.50 each month for dental service in Cook county alone. Commission members estimated that under the new proposal the bill would jump to between $18,000 and $22,000 monthly.

The proposal would also give the Chicago Dental Society control of the central examining clinic.

Commissioners protested that this arrangement might be an inducement for some to give work when it was not needed.

Shreveport Negro Lynched by Gang of His Own Color Shreveport, La., Aug. 4.—(AP)—A Negro was lynched last night by members of his own race because, officers said today, he had insulted a Negro girl.

A group of about ten Negroes tied Grafton Page, 30, to a tree limb near Bethany, 22 miles from here, striped him and then beat him to death with pine knots, officers reported.

Page, described as a "bully" in the Negro community at Bethany, was seized by the group after the automobile in which he was driving had collided with a truck, knocking the girl unconscious.

No arrests have been made.

DIXONITE'S ARM TORN OFF WHEN CARS SIDESWIPE

Harry Miller Suffers a Serious Accident East of Sterling

Harry Miller of this city met with a very serious accident this morning about 1:30 o'clock when his left arm was torn off below the shoulder in an automobile accident which occurred on the Lincoln Highway about three miles west of Prairieville. Miller was driving a sedan in which Lloyd Moore of this city was a fellow passenger when the accident occurred. The car was passing another motor vehicle, when they sideswiped.

Miller's left arm was said to have been hanging out the window of the car he was driving and received the force of the blow, tearing it off just below the shoulder. Reports of the accident were very meager, but Miller and Moore were said to have walked back and picked up the torn arm from the pavement and Miller was then rushed to the Home hospital at Sterling. State Highway Officer Finn from the Sterling headquarters was called to the scene of the accident. The car which belonged to Moore, was badly damaged and was hauled to Dixon.

Reports from Sterling this morning indicated that while Miller had suffered the loss of a great amount of blood he was resting as comfortably as could be expected.

Woman Leaped to Death from Train Sogel, Ill., Aug. 4.—(AP)—A Coroner's inquest today decided that Mrs. Mal Scott Barrett of Memphis, Tenn., committed suicide by jumping from an Illinois Central train near here Thursday night.

Coroner Charles Miner of Shelby county presided at the inquest. Witnesses were Miss Jonny Nesheim, Mrs. Barrett's nurse, and B. O. J. Scheid, Chicago investment banker, who definitely identified the body late yesterday.

Testimony was given that Mrs. Barrett had been undergoing treatment at Chicago for a nervous disorder and that she used scissors to cut the screen in her Pullman berth.

The body was sent to Memphis late yesterday.

LOWER AUTO TAXES? Chicago.—(AP)—County Judge O. B. Erwin of Sangamon County was elected head of the Automobile Tax Reduction League at its organization meeting. The League opposes diversion of highway funds to a municipal vehicle tax in excess of $2.50 and asks a flat $3 state license fee, and a one cent reduction in the state gas tax to two cents a gallon.

Light System Needed The granting by the PWA administration of federal relief for the construction of a new ornamental street lighting system is the more important of the two projects. The present system is antiquated and the Illinois Northern Utilities Company several months ago served notice on the city officials refusing to be responsible for the system. Many of the fixtures are unsafe and are wired up to prevent their falling to the street.

Poles and fixtures of the same type as were installed on North Galena avenue from Lincoln Drive to Boyd street will replace those now in use in the business district at an estimated cost of $20,000. The present poles and fixtures will be removed and an entirely new system installed. All connecting wires are to be underground in cables, thus eliminating unsightly aerial wires as exist largely under the present system.

Eight Poles to Block The plan provides for eight poles and fixtures in each block, four on each side of the street as follows: First street, Crawford to Madison avenue.

Ottawa avenue, East River to Second street.

Galena avenue, River to Third street.

Hennepin avenue, River to Second street.

Second street, Hennepin to Galena avenue.

Consider Plans to Halve Real Estate Taxes in Illinois Chicago, Aug. 4.—(AP)—A plan to halve the tax burden on real estate was in preparation today for presentation to the next session of the legislature.

Scott W. Lucas, chairman of the Illinois State Tax Commission, which is drawing up the plan, said yesterday that "real estate must be given relief, but it should be done in an orderly way."

"The 1 or 1½ per cent tax limitation proposal will not work," he asserted. He said it would cripple the functions of governments.

Will Draw Before Revolutionary War Found at Sycamore Sycamore, Ill., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Faded, but still legible, a last will and testament drawn on Aug. 6, 1757, 18 years before the outbreak of the Revolutionary War, was uncovered yesterday among the heirlooms of Emerson Andrew here.

The parchment document was penned and sealed by Samuel Davis at Massachusetts Bay. Stock, land and silver comprised the bequests.

Davenport Man Dies Enroute to Big Fair Joliet, Ill., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Bound for the World Fair with his wife and small granddaughter, Neil Pearson, 62, of Davenport, Ia., suffered a cerebral hemorrhage aboard a Rock Island train near Joliet last night and was hurried to a hospital when the train reached here. He died an hour later.

New Boulevard Lighting System, Paving Resurfacing Here Approved

Work on Additional PWA Projects Here to Start Soon.

Two important Public Works Administration projects for the city of Dixon were assured late yesterday afternoon when Mayor G. C. Dixon was informed from Washington, D. C., that the street resurfacing project and the ornamental street lighting system plan had been approved and federal aid granted the city. Both projects represent an estimated expenditure of $40,000 under the PWA plan.

Bids for the two projects will be received by the city council at a special meeting to be held August 16 at 11 o'clock at the city hall. The bids will remain on file in the city clerk's office until August 18 when it is expected that the contracts will be awarded, which will assure the beginning of work on both projects the latter part of the month. Thirty per cent of the cost of both projects is to be paid for by the federal government, the remaining 70 per cent by the city, the payments being extended over a period of ten years and the amount bearing four per cent interest.

To Resurface Streets The resurfacing project provides for the covering of the present brick paving in the business district with an asphaltic substance very similar to that which was used on the Galena avenue bridge this summer.

The resurfacing of the following streets: Galena avenue from River to Third street.

First street from Ottawa to Madison avenues.

Peoria avenue from Commercial alley to Second street.

Fifth street from Highland to Crawford avenues.

The latter improvement was petitioned for by the property owners early last winter and the estimated cost was placed at $3,595.50. The estimated cost of the resurfacing of the business district is $16,430. On Fifth street the present rock macadam street is to be treated to an asphaltic top.

Light System Needed The granting by the PWA administration of federal relief for the construction of a new ornamental street lighting system is the more important of the two projects. The present system is antiquated and the Illinois Northern Utilities Company several months ago served notice on the city officials refusing to be responsible for the system. Explorers Submit to Operation Today Panama, Aug. 4.—(AP)—W. A. Robinson, Chicago, engineer and explorer, was operated upon this morning for relief from appendicitis in Gofgas hospital by Dr. Troy Earhart, who successfully treated Robinson several weeks ago when he was rushed from Galapagos Island where he was stricken with a ruptured appendix. Following the operation, Dr. Earhart announced: "The patient is doing very well. A piece of his appendix had to come out."

BOLD BOY IN SHOOTING Springfield.—(AP)—Authorities detained William Atrates, 14, a Chicagoan visiting with relatives in Auburn, while they investigated the fatal shooting of Raymond Wylder, 11, in company with Jack Beam, another youth, Atrates met Wylder on a railroad right of way near Auburn where the shooting occurred. Atrates, the authorities said, claimed he fired the weapon accidentally. The Beam boy was also held.

Gen. Johnson Will Celebrate His 52nd Birthday Tomorrow Washington, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Hugh S. Johnson will celebrate his fifty-second birthday tomorrow with the country wondering—as does he—about his future and what it means for NRA.

The best guess just now is that he will stay a while as NRA administrator.

NRA is undergoing one transition and there is a conviction in some quarters that perhaps more fundamental changes are coming. The extent to which Johnson has a voice in these may prove pivotal, thus there is much speculation as to how long he will remain in his post.

President Roosevelt will decide that. He is not expected to make any early shift, despite Johnson's desire to return to private business.

Local Veteran's Claim Against U. S. Government Finally is Settled After 33 Years; Gets Check for $26 S. M. Hinds of this city this morning received a check in settlement of a federal claim after 33 years. He enlisted for service in the Philippine insurrection at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., Aug. 28, 1899. During the spring and summer of 1899, twenty-five regiments of volunteers were organized and mustered into the United States service for duty in the insurrection. At the time of enlistment, these volunteers were promised two months extra pay on muster out of service, but because of a technicality in the law the vast majority of them never received the extra pay. The last Congress removed the technicality and payment was ordered made to all survivors. It is estimated that approximately 7,000 survivors are affected by the new ruling. Mr. Hinds was a member of Company A, 38th U. S. Volunteers and was honorably discharged at San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 11, 1901.

Chinese Troops Claim a Victory Over Communists Shanghai, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The Chinese government today claimed its troops had smashed a Communist rebellion in Fukien province and saved the city of Foochow from threatened capture. Censorship, however, was sharp and details of the fighting were not available.

Earlier unconfirmed reports received at Hong Kong said the Communists had broken through government forces to capture the city of Shuihow and were menacing the important port of Foochow. The British warship Witech arrived at Foochow this afternoon.

TINIEST CHILD OF QUADRUPLETS UNABLE TO LIVE

Iowa Mite Lacking in Strength; Others "Doing Fine"

Sac City, Ia., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Death today claimed Lorraine Delaine Wycoff, tiniest of the quadruplets born June 9 to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wycoff.

The child had no visible organic trouble, according to Dr. G. H. Swearingen, who delivered the quadruplets and has attended them since. He could give no reason for the death except that the tot did not have the strength to survive.

Lorraine had gained only little more than a pound since birth, failing to keep pace with her husky sisters and brother. Her weight yesterday was three and a half pounds.

Of the three surviving members of the famous quadruplets, Lorraine Danene yesterday weighed 4 pounds, 14 ounces; Laverne Darlene, five pounds; and Lester Dean six pounds, and Dr. Swearingen said they are "getting along fine."

Lorraine's death was the first in the family, which includes five other children in addition to the three surviving babies of the quadruplets.

OFFICER SAVES BOY PRONOUNCED TO BE DEAD

Lad Walks Away from "Drowning" With Certificate of Death

Manchassel, N. Y., Aug. 4.—(AP)—The boy was dead. The doctor said so. The coroner concurred. They called the undertaker.

Everyone in the crowd that gathered on the dock when the lad, Stanley Kadluboski, 10 years old, was hauled from Manhasset Bay early last night agreed. No one can stay under water ten minutes and live.

A doctor examined the body. No pulse, no breathing, no movement. The boy was dead.

The coroner came, shouldered his way through the group gathered about the still form and made a brief examination. He executed the papers of death. One cannot drown in Manhasset Bay except there be coroner's papers later to make it official. An hour passed; then another.

Await Undertaker. The crowd remained, awaiting the arrival of the undertaker. John Symes of the Nassau county police was present. He was not too experienced with tragedy of the sea, but at police school he had paid attention to the course on life saving.

As they waited for the hearse, Symes stepped forward. "Let me show you fellows how they taught us to save lives at police school," he remarked.

The policeman bent over the body of the boy who had been pronounced dead two hours before. The steady pumping of arms, the pushing of chest began. Artificial respiration.

Report Completed. The coroner had completed his report and waited impatiently for the undertaker. Dr. David Gurin stood nearby, likewise waiting.

The limp arms of Stanley Kadluboski were being pumped rhythmically as Officer Symes warmed up to his exhibition of police school methods of life saving.

One of Stanley Kadluboski's eyelids fluttered. It wasn't much but Dr. Gurin saw it and leaped forward. "Life!"

A few minutes later the boy, holding in his left hand a certificate stating he departed this life at 7:25 P. M., was shaking hands with the coroner.

Chicago Livestock

Chicago, Aug. 4—(AP)—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Cattle 2,000, commercial; 6,000 government; calves 500 commercial, 2,000 government; except for one or two true markets, cattle trade has been closed since July 24 because of labor difficulties which have not yet been settled; Chicago livestock exchange has noted the yards open and a more or less restricted market developed late this week, practically everything going to big killers whose butchers are not allied with A. F. L.; naturally all comparisons with week ago are impossible but prices on reopened markets generally higher than immediate pre-strike trade on everything except grass steers and stockers and feeders selling mainly at 4.50 down to 2.75; week's top 9.00 on medium weight steers; yearling steers 8.40 and best 8.67 lb. heifers 7.50; general opinion is that continued liquidation market grass cattle will ensue in addition to heavy purchases emergency drought cattle on federal account. Sheep 2,000; for week ending Friday no doubties from feeding stations, practically entire local run of around 28,000 head direct to packers; few lambs sold Friday look 25 cents and more over pre-strike levels; bulk natives to packers 6.75 downward not particularly attractive; top 7.00 on few to yard trader; deck yearlings unsold. Hogs, 112,000, including 11,000 direct; market fully steady with Friday; better grade weight above 200 pounds 4.90/5.10; top 5.10; good packing sows 3.90/4.25; shippers took none; estimated holdover 500. Unofficial estimated receipts of livestock for Monday: Hogs 20,000; cattle 15,000, including 10,000 on the government account; sheep 11,000; hogs for all next week 11,000.

PARKER DEFEATS
BRYAN GRANT TO WIN AT TENNISTurned Back Atlanta
Sensation Today in Straight Sets

Southampton, N. Y., Aug. 4—(AP)—Frankie Parker, Lawrenceville, N. J., schoolboy, today won the Meadow Club invitation tennis tournament, defeating Bryan (Bibi) Grant of Atlanta, Ga., in straight sets 6-3, 9-7, 6-0. Turned back last year by Frank Shields in the finals, Parker took only one hour and forty minutes to dispose of Grant, rated one of the hardest players in American tennis to beat when the "chicks are down." Parker is ranked eighth nationally, one notch below Grant. Parker, a student of Mercer Beasley, tennis coach at Princeton, set the pace throughout, gradually wearing the little southerner down with a battering bombard. Time and again Frankie sent sizzling drives down the sidelines that just nicked the white stripes, catching Grant flat-footed. Frankie showed his best tennis in the final set, when Grant, tired from the burning pace of the first two sets, found it nearly impossible to handle the winner's service. Parker outscored his opponent 28 points to 11 in the deciding set. CRIME DETECTION
IN U. S. ADVANCED
BY A "SUPER-LAB"

Laboratory Will Outshine
Scotland Yard or
Paris Surete

Washington, Aug. 4—(AP)—The Department of Justice, in creating a laboratory for scientific crime detection that will surpass Scotland Yard's.

To translate clues into evidence in the national war on evil-doing it will have specially designed microscopes, precision instruments, violet ray devices, fluoroscopic machines and many other aids to the modern sleuth, officials disclosed.

The division established its first laboratory in 1932. The new one will contain equipment far superior.

Enormous Records.
Calling the Department of Justice the American Scotland Yard is an understatement from some standpoints. For example, the department has on file 4,400,000 fingerprint record cards as against only 500,000 at Scotland Yard and about 1,500,000 at the Paris Surete.

Scotland Yard, of course, confines its work largely to the London metropolitan area and does not cover the nation.

Sorting over 4,400,000 record cards would be a Herculean job if it were not for the fact that prints can be divided and subdivided according to characteristics. A new system, applied only to 22,000 cards, thus far picks out the desired ones automatically.

Solve Many Secrets.
Invisible writing is old stuff to the laboratory experts. A violet ray machine brings out the hidden imprint of acid.

A special microscope compares minute markings made on bullets when projected through a gun's barrel.

The apprehensions of a high official who received some time ago a suspicious package through the mail were allayed by the fluoroscope. It showed the parcel contained a gift zavel, not a bomb.

CHICAGO CHIEF OF DETECTIVES
IS GIVEN REST

Schoemaker to Take Indefinite Leave to Regain Health

Chicago, Aug. 4—(AP)—Chief of Detectives William H. Schoemaker quitted his post on indefinite furlough today to recapture his health.

The 66-year-old veteran of 31 years service in the Chicago police department was told to take as long as he liked in recuperating from a skin and nervous ailment.

Lieut. John L. Sullivan, 48, a star investigator for the state's attorney, was appointed detective chief in his stead.

Schoemaker, who has been in charge of the detective force since 1931, picked up his personal effects and walked out of the bureau with no more explanation than the brusque party of questions: "I'm in a hurry. I'm getting out of here."

Police Commissioner James P. Allman afterwards explained that he had counseled Schoemaker to "drop everything" until his health improved.

"He may take as much time off with full pay as is necessary to recuperate," said Allman. "His actions while head of the detective bureau have been flawless. He is leaving solely because of his health."

Schoemaker served as temporary chief of detectives for three years until supplanted by an incoming city administration in 1927. Four years later he was reinstated. He has been cited 23 times for bravery.

HOUSE FLY HAS SPREAD DEADLY
GERMS IN EAST

Five Children Dead and Scores are Ill In Dysentery Epidemic

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 4—(AP)—The common house fly was blamed today by the health department for the spread of a form of dysentery which killed five children in a week and sent three more to hospitals for treatment.

Dr. Edward H. Salmon, chief of the communicable disease division of the health bureau, announced last night his belief that the fly had carried the germ, the Flexner strain of bacillus dysentery, to widely scattered homes of the city.

Today he issued a warning to residents to screen houses and particularly food from the flies. A germ-bearing fly, he declared, can transmit the disease by contact with food or directly to a person.

Have Isolated Germ.
The bureau's discovery followed quickly the isolation of the germ. This was accomplished when a serum, brought here by plane from the department of agriculture at Washington, was injected into the blood of Dorothy Green, 5, one of the stricken children.

A particularly insidious element of the disease, Dr. Salmon said, was the fact that a child can be infected for about a week before the malady takes a virulent form, sometimes too late for treatment.

Of those treated, 39 have been detained at the medical center. It was unofficially but reliably reported that among those isolated are four nurses.

Indianapolis, Aug. 4—(AP)—Attorney-General Philip Lutz, Jr., said today he is informed that fifteen federal agents are operating in Lake county seeking to round up the remnants of John Dillinger's gang.

The attorney-general said attention is being given also to the matter of Dillinger's escape last March from the Crown Point jail.

Lutz said that information gathered by attaches of his office has convinced him that money was passed to bring about Dillinger's escape. He added, however, that difficulty had been experienced in obtaining evidence which could be presented in court against any persons alleged to have been implicated in aiding Dillinger to escape.

The federal officers, Lutz said, are investigating crime conditions in Lake county in connection with their Dillinger inquiry.

"Lake county has been a law unto itself," said Lutz. "I am convinced that Dillinger had protection in the county."

Giants Pull Triple

Game to Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Aug. 4—(AP)—The New York Giants, credited with the first triple play of the year, staged a three-run rally in the ninth but dropped the first game of a double-header with the Philadelphia 5 to 4 as George Davis and Bucky Walters hit home runs. Curt Davis received credit for the victory, his 16th of the year, although driven from the box in the ninth.

The triple play was made by Dick Bartell and Louis Chiozza on second and first, respectively, as the result of a single and Travis Jackson's error. Ethan Allen lined to Hughie Critz. The Giants' second baseman's throw to Bill Terry doubled Chiozza off first. Terry then threw to Jackson to catch Bartell before the latter could get back to second base.

SIR WALTER SCOTT'S FAMILY BIBLE

HERE is in the library at Abbotford a fine copy of Bakerville's folio Bible, two volumes, printed at Cambridge in 1763; and there appears on the blank leaf in the trembling handwriting of Scott's mother, this inscription: "To my dear son, Walter Scott, from his affectionate Mother, Anne Rutherford, January 1st, 1819." Under these words her son has written as follows: "This Bible was the gift of my grandfather, Dr. John Rutherford, to my mother, and presented by her to me; alas! the last gift which I was to receive from that excellent parent, and as I verily believe, the thing which she most loved in the world—this only in humble veneration of the sacred contents, but as the dearest pledge of her father's affection to her. As such she gave it to me; and as such I bequeath it to those who represent me—charging them carefully to preserve the same in memory of those to whom it has belonged, 1820." — From the "Narrative of the Life of Sir Walter Scott," begun by himself and continued by J. G. Lockhart.

Lovely Gift from M. E. Bible Class

The Shawnee-Lodge Bible class of the local Methodist church placed a lovely couch in the pastor's study yesterday as their contribution to the furnishing and comfort of the church. In the reception, pageants, and programs at the church this valuable addition will be greatly appreciated.
There is a fine, growing enthusiasm for the church on the part of the young people, and this contribution is another illustration. These expressions greatly cheer the older members who through the years have paid the bills of the church and looked forward to the day when more and more of the young people would be able to share with them the privileges of service in the church.

Jellied Soups

Zestful for Pres-ent Hot Days

By MARY E. DAGUE
(NEA Service Staff Writer.)

The miss of the first course in any meal is to stimulate and whet the appetite. In summer, particularly, such a course is needed because the heat tends to take away our desire for food.
Ice cold bouillon of jelly-like consistency is a welcome dish on a hot day. Fruit in the form of a cocktail, soup or appetizer is very popular for summer meals. Chilled fish cocktails, vegetable appetizers and vegetable juice cocktails all make inviting beginnings for hot weather menus. Impressively seasoned and thoroughly chilled these first courses invite one to forget the weather.

Whenever it is possible to serve a cold concoction in a well of ice so much the better. But if this form of service is not convenient keep the food on ice until ready to serve. Always chill the container before filling it with the mixture.

Jellied Soups

Fruit is refreshing and zestful served in one of its many forms. Jellied consommé is delicate for hot summer noons or evenings. Highly seasoned, it stimulates the appetite much as the hot soup does.

Jellied tomato bouillon is appealing with its tart piquancy. It should be quiveringly firm but not stiff enough to hold its shape. A too-stiff jelly is unappetizing.

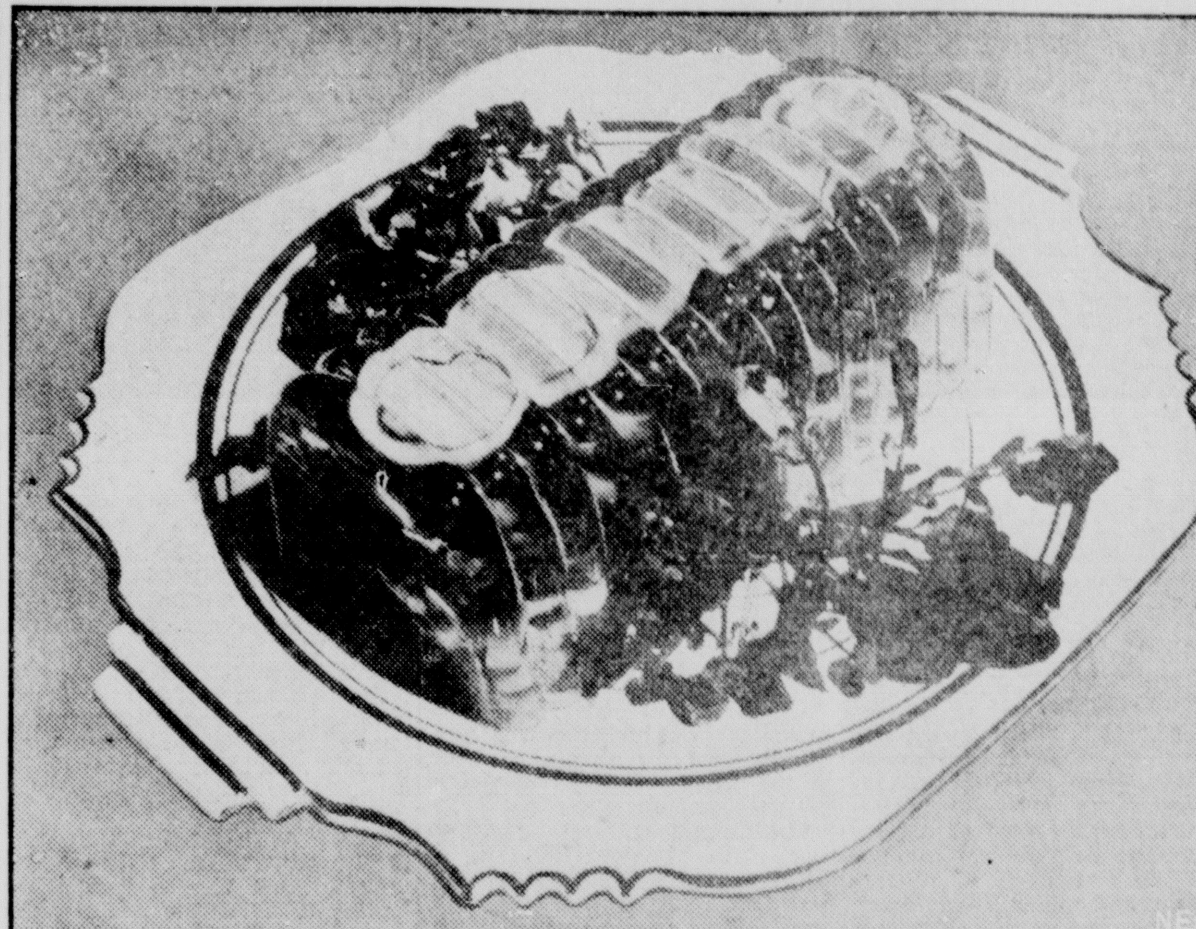

Crisp wafers are a good accompaniment for any jellied soup and radishes and celery can be served with anything but a mixed vegetable soup.

Canned soups, bouillon cubes or freshly made stock can be used for jellied soups. Instead of long fussing over meat bones in order to make the soup jelly, try using gelatin for the thickening agent. This makes a jellied soup very easy to prepare.

Extra salt and pepper are needed for iced bouillon, since very cold foods have a tendency to dull the nerve which is sensitive to taste.

Don't Repeat Flavors
There's one precaution to keep

SALADS MUST LOOK IRRESISTIBLE, TOO

Gelatin Aspic is Sure to Please Jaded Palate

The molded salad always looks appetizing and refreshing.

By NEA Service—

The attractiveness of mid-summer dishes is just as important as their food value. After all, in this kind of weather, it's pretty difficult for a homemaker to get the members of her family to eat anything at all and as for getting them to touch a dish that doesn't look perfectly lovely—well, it just can't be done.

For instance, by this time everyone is getting quite tired of cold salads, particularly vegetable salads. Yet the housewife has little choice but to keep on serving them. This she can do with full assurance that they'll be eaten if she'll try varying the recipes now and then. And putting a salad in gelatin aspic is one of the grandest variations. Here's a recipe:

Dissolve one package of gelatin aspic in one cup of boiling water. Add a cup of ice-cold water. Pour a thin layer in the bottom of a leaf pan and chill until firm. Sprinkle with paprika and cover completely with slices of cold boiled eggs. Meanwhile, chill remaining gelatin until it starts to thicken. Pour a layer of it over the eggs.

Arrange alternate layers of vegetables and thickened gelatin using a cupful of string beans for the first layer, one cupful of diced celery for the second and diced carrots for the third. Finish with a layer of gelatin. Chill until firm and serve on a platter, garnish with parsley or lettuce.

Trouble Maker Is Unwelcome Everywhere

By Olive Roberts Barton.

There is one type of human being who possesses the everlasting ability to make every one near her or him, uncomfortable. Usually this particular weakness is of the feminine gender, but not always.

It leaves us irritated and baffled, and all the more so because we cannot put our finger on the trouble.

If we take pains to go over word by word all that has been said, the other person's remarks, our poor silly answers, and the general trend of conversation, we may be enlightened.

It is something like this—her method (or his).

Temptis Tempters.
She directs the conversation deliberately to some subject she knows will irritate us. And then she gets us on the defense and gives her exactly what she wants—the advantage of attack. During the whole time she never loses her temper. But she enjoys seeing us lose ours. She has a gift of cleverly putting us in wrong whichever way we turn. It is done so subtly and deftly that it protects her completely. We do not even realize we are under fire at the time.

Finally, "Well, I must be going," she says sweetly, picking up her purse. She leaves with a gratified look for her next call on some other flustered person, who in turn will be put on the spot. She isn't a gossip—she merely gets a thrill for her own ego by making the world habitually try to right itself with her, explain to her, go over its weak spots with her.

And as the door closes you wonder why on earth you kept explaining and apologizing for buying the new lamp, or not having Hester's tonsils out, or having those funny people from Whatliss for dinner the other night. It did not strike you at the time that none of it was her business. She was far too subtle. Your wits are always three hours catching up to hers if at all. And you are seldom prepared for the next time.

Defense—defense, always defense. The waspish facility to make you

Buy Reputable Brand of Powder

By ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

Evening face powders should be chosen as carefully as those for daytime. And the best way to do it, of course is actually to try several shades on your skin before you buy a supply.

Lavender, green and yellow are the three leading evening powder shades. There is no set rule as to which a brunette or a blonde should use—maybe all will be flattering, maybe none. The only way to find out is to make your own tests under artificial light.

Remember that the green and lavender tones aren't supposed to take the place of your regular daytime powder. They're to be used on top of it. When you're making up for evening, put on your cosmetics, including powder, in the usual way. When you have finished, dust a bit of orchid or green over face and neck to give that exotic, luminous appearance that is so intriguing.

Select face powder that's made by a reputable cosmetics. There are no really simple tests that the average shopper can make to determine whether or not a powder is pure. The only way you can be sure that you're getting a good product is to choose a well-known brand made by a manufacturer with a reputation for reliability.

WOOLENS ARE HEADLINERS THIS FALL

Woolens are headliners this fall. On one side of a woolen fabric department you'll see the rough-surfaced materials that are simply grand for active and spectator sports dresses, and straight across the aisles, the smooth wool crepes and sheers that are so highly recommended for street and other daytime costumes.

If you want to be really chic, have woolen gloves to match your dress. Or have woolen gloves and breeches that contract with the color of the costume itself.

And Youngsters . . .
The lady has her embryo in the child who learns early to feed her ego on other children's discomfort.

Recently I saw some little girls playing. One was so busy putting the others in wrong she wasn't paying attention to the game. The game meant nothing to her. She was too absorbed getting all the kick she needed out of their discomfort and denials. "I am not," one would shout. "I did so," cried another. "Now what did I do?" yells a third.

She hasn't reached the age of subtlety, but already her attitude is fixed. She will go through life gloating over other people's defenses. One such child can make a whole family or a whole street miserable.

WE HAVE A NEW LAW, BUT SAME PROBLEM.

The federal government is getting set to make a new drive against bootleggers and run-runners.That statement seems to put the clock back several years. It smacks of the old days when we took it for granted that the 18th amendment was here to stay. But it comes from Washington in the summer of 1934, more than a half year after the amendment was buried.Details of this drive have a strangely familiar sound.
The alcohol tax unit of the internal revenue bureau is to be expanded. Coast guard forces all along the Atlantic coast are to be strengthened to strike at a new "rum row."The new liquor bottle and label regulations will be enforced with all possible strictness. Lowering of the liquor tariff and tax rates is discussed, so that the price of legal whisky may be cut to meet illegal competition.The American people had two chances to make mistakes in connection with the liquor traffic—and they took both of them.First of all, we more or less took it for granted that by making the traffic illegal we would solve the whole, age-old liquor problem.We tried that and it didn't work. After less than a decade and a half of prohibition we found that we had simply hopped out of the frying pan into the fire. Prohibition brought certain benefits, but it brought such flagrant abuses that the amendment was finally ousted from the constitution by an overwhelming vote.

And then came our second mistake.

Just as we had originally assumed that outlawing the traffic would automatically solve the problem, so now our child-like faith led us to believe that legalizing the traffic would do it. In the first instance we thought that all we had to do was pass a law; in the second, we thought that all we had to do was repeal one.But the liquor problem, like death and taxes, seems to be inescapable. It was a knotty one under prohibition, and it is almost equally knotty under repeal. And it is just about as far from solution now as it ever was.We have had altogether too much emotionalism on both sides of the fence. As a result, we have had nothing remotely resembling a cool, scientific study of the problem which might show us the best line of attack.Unless we get something of that kind, we are apt to find that we returned to the draw-backs of an open liquor traffic without abolishing those of prohibition.

GOOD WILL THWARTED BY POOR DIPLOMACY.

Two years ago the sentiment of the great powers was steadily becoming more and more cordial to the aspirations of a defeated Germany.Germany wanted, among other things, "anschluss," or union, with Austria. France opposed the idea bitterly, but elsewhere there was a growing feeling that such a step might be an excellent thing for both nations.Germany wanted some recognition of her right to arm as she chose. Once again, France was steadfast in opposition; but once again sentiment elsewhere was in favor of relaxing the iron terms of the Versailles treaty in this respect.Germany wanted a readjustment of her frontiers and a restoration of her colonies. Thoughtful men everywhere were beginning to admit that there was a great deal of justice in this claim, and while there was no immediate prospect that it would be granted, the outlook was more favorable than it had been at any other time since the peace treaties were signed.The hatreds and suspicions born of the war, in other words, were definitely subsiding. Responsible men all over Europe were beginning to realize that Europe could not regain its health until the bloc of Germanic peoples in the center of the continent were given some sort of chance to work out their destiny in their own way.

And then—what happened?

Hitler rose to power, breathing out fire and slaughter, demonstrating by his treatment of minorities in his own land that he and his party were utterly ruthless in pursuit of their chosen goal. He rattled the saber in the pre-war Hohenzollern style. He created in every chancellor in Europe a fear of war—a fear more acute than any which had existed since July of 1914.Immediately that favorable sentiment, without which German aspirations could not possibly be fulfilled, began to disappear. The old suspicions were reborn with greater force than ever. The clock was set back a dozen years.
Today Mussolini prepares to march an army into Austria to prevent the threatened "anschluss"—and, if he does, all Europe will approve. England discusses joint military action with France, just as in 1914. In all the concert of European powers, not one voice is raised in favor of Germany. Germany has more enemies than in 1914—and no allies at all.It is the irony of history that the man who promised Germany that he would fulfill her aims in spite of everything, has succeeded only in making them infinitely farther from attainment than they were in the days of the despised republic.American workers today are the most helpless and economically unprotected in the whole industrial world.—
Abraham Epstein, executive secretary, American Association for Old Age Security.Burdening people with debt is an old deal, not a new deal.—Henry Ford.

Registers Complaint

A large drove of cattle being driven through the east part of town Thursday morning on the way from the stockyards to a farm south of town, escaped from control of the drivers and cut a wide swath of disturbance and damage to fences, gardens and lawns in that part of town. Such things have occurred before, and it would seem that some measure of control should be adopted to prevent a repetition of the accident. In this year of hard times for everybody, when repair bills and destruction of garden crops mean so much to us all, it does not seem just or fair that such possibilities should be allowed. Live stock which must be transferred through the village to reach its destination should either be trucked, or else permission to drive should be required from the proper authorities and granted only on provision that an ample force of drivers be furnished to assure the stock being kept from trespassing on private property.

"How Does Your Advertising Investment Compare with the Average?" "While every line of business is not represented here, you will be able by comparison to determine the amount that you should invest in your business. 95 per cent of all business failures are non-advertisers according to Bradstreet's report."

Wee Duncy cried, "How can we cut the melons. I could do it, but I have no knife. I guess we'll have to smash them with a stick."

Just then two birds swooped to the ground. "Oh, your plan is not very sound," one chirped. "I can suggest a plan that you'll agree is slick."

"Go right ahead," said Scouty. "Gee, I'm curious as I can be, and, also, I am hungry for a slice of melon now."

"They are the nicest I have seen. The inside's red and the outside green. When we get set to reach them, I'll show the whole bunch how."

"Well," said the bird, "just find a stick. Then whistle it until it's slick on one edge, just like any knife. That's really all you need."

"Ha, ha!" laughed Scouty. "You are smart. The melons soon will fall apart. I'll get the stick and do the cutting. Watch me show some speed!"

And then he scampered all around until a real fine stick was found. The whistling didn't take him long. "Now I'm all set," he cried.

"You Times line up, right near by. I'll give you each a slice, and try to make them all the same size." "Hurry up," wee Duncy sighed.

The cutting was a funny sight. Wee Scouty sawed with all his might. "You act just like a woodsman," shouted Windy, with a smile.

"You'll have us waiting all day long. Say, lad, I thought that you were strong. You'd better rest and let me do the cutting for a while."

"All right," said Scouty. "Thanks, a to. The cutting's made me very hot." So Copy took his turn. Real soon there was a piece for all.

Each Tiny started eating and the melon splashed to beat the band. One of the birds cried, "Careful, now! Don't let your pieces fall."

GREAT HITTER, TWO PITCHERS STARS FRIDAY

Gehrig, Rowe, Hubbell
Feature Base Ball
News of Day

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
One great hitter and a couple of pitchers who are at least threatening to approach greatness received the plaudits of big league fans today for feats which overshadowed the unchanged status of two more pennant races.

They were Lou Gehrig, off on a streak of home runs and ordinary hits, Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, with a new season's record for consecutive pitching victories, and Carl Hubbell, with 22 successive scoreless innings on the hill written into the books. All three figured yesterday in victories for the Yankees, Tigers and Giants which left Detroit a game ahead of New York in the American League race and the Giants three games up on Chicago in the National.

Seven Straight Hits
Gehrig, who has made seven straight hits and reached first base nine times in two days, smacked his 34th and 35th homers against the Athletics yesterday as the Yankees downed Philadelphia 5 to 1.

Rowe pitched almost faultless ball for seven innings to win his eleventh straight victory and his 15th of the season, surpassing the streak Dizzy Dean made earlier this year. He gave only one hit, a single by Jimmy Dykes, and three walks to the Tigers won the game 14 to 0.

Hubbell, who blanked the Phillies Sunday and followed with four scoreless innings against Boston, turned in his second straight white wash job for Philadelphia, 2 to 0.

Warneke Gets No. 15
Lonnie Warneke of the Cubs was the third hurler of the day to turn in victory No. 15, getting credit for the Cubs' 5 to 4 triumph over Cincinnati when he appeared in a relief role.

Jerome (Dizzy) Dean of the Cardinals, leading big league hurler, recorded his 19th triumph against four defeats but did it less impressively as the Cards trounced Pittsburgh 9 to 3. He granted eleven blows.

Monte Pearson of Cleveland collected his 14th triumph as the Indians broke a three-game losing streak with a 6 to 4 decision over St. Louis. The Red Sox and the Athletics in the American League and Braves and Dodgers had the day off.

Couple of Girls From East Battle for Tennis Title

Easthampton, N. Y., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Two eastern girls from outside America's "first ten," 20-year-old Katherine Winthrop of Boston and Mrs. Dorothy Andrus of Stamford, Conn., are all that is left today of a field of stars that sought the William H. Woodin gold cup of the annual Maudslowe Club tennis tournament.

They came down to the final round today through a series of upsets that culminated yesterday when Miss Winthrop eliminated Josephine Cruickshank of Santa Ana, Cal., 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, and Mrs. Andrus put out Mrs. Mary Greif Harris of Kansas City, 5-7, 6-4, 7-5, in the semi-finals.

The doubles final matched Carolin Babcock of Los Angeles and Mrs. Andrus against Miss Cruickshank and Mrs. John Van Ryn of Philadelphia.

GEHRIG'S STICK WORK THIS WEEK AROUSSED FANDOM

Yankee Clouter Lifts Self from Fifth to Second Position

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Lou Gehrig of the Yankees, whose mighty swatting feats have aroused fandom to a new peak of interest in the last couple of days, was the leading figure in the past week, when a lot of interesting developments took place in the struggle for American League batting honors and very few in the National League race.

The pace setter, Heinie Manush, of Washington, remained on the bench most of the time and his loss was only two points as he hit four times in 12 attempts. That gave him a .395 average when the figures were rounded up after yesterday's games.

Gehrig, meanwhile collected 16 safe blows, including six home runs in 30 trips to the plate. He sent his average up 13 points to .378 and moved from fifth place to second among the league leaders.

Paul Waner, National League leader, equalled par for the week in the elder loop when he hit eleven times in 29 trips to the plate. That sent his average up two points to .361 and gave him a four point margin over Bill Terry of New York, who dropped one point.

Records of the ten leading hitters in each major league follow:

LAST RITES FOR HINDENBURG ARE PLANNED TUESDAY

Services Will be Held at Tannenberg, Once
Scene of Battle

By GUENTHER BEUKERT
(Copyright, 1934, by The Associated Press.)

Neudeck, Germany, Aug. 4.—A solemn quiet prevailed at Paul von Hindenburg's stately home when I made a pilgrimage to it Friday afternoon to see its master in death.

He is surrounded by the objects he loved so well in life, and which so often brought him back to his estate from his arduous duties at Berlin.

Von Hindenburg still lay on his death bed, his countenance pallid and benignly peaceful. Only his massive head and his strong arms showed above the snow-white coverlet. In his hands was a cluster of wilting flowers gathered by his children and grandchildren.

Officers On Guard

An army officer stood guard at each corner of the bed, and on each side of it glimmered ten candles.

The shutters were tightly closed. Near the bed were a number of wreaths. One was from Gen. Werner von Blomberg, defense minister of the Reich. A black and white ribbon attached to it bore the words, "To the Field Marshal from the East Prussian Military."

On the white coverlet was a bullet which had pierced von Hindenburg's hand in a battle in 1866. A soldier later gave it to von Hindenburg, saying, "I burned my fingers on this. It was too hot."

Near the bed lay the old soldier's Bible, a heavy, well-thumbed volume.

Burial on Estate?

It was understood here, but not confirmed, that burial will take place in the family burial plot on the Neudeck estate Wednesday after the body is brought back from Tannenberg. It was believed the willingness of von Hindenburg's family led to the announcement in Berlin that the funeral would take place at Tannenberg, but it was thought the Field Marshal's will indicated he preferred to rest here.

Throughout the spacious home and on the broad, green lawn are many mementoes of von Hindenburg's moments in life. One insight into his character is an inscription over the fireplace which reads: "Loyalty is honor's backbone."

The old general's uniform, pictures of von Hindenburg and other officers, the big chair in which he frequently caught naps after dinner, swords and buffalo and elk heads were other reminders of the master of the estate. In front of a hole in the ground was a park bench on which von Hindenburg often rested because he said the place reminded him of one of the scenes of his childhood—a creek which he had dammed to make a swimming hole.

Notables Arrive

Franc von Papen, personal friend and long one of von Hindenburg's most intimate political associates, arrived yesterday, grief-stricken and carrying a large armful of red roses.

Germany's former crown prince arrived here Friday, now a national shrine, bearing condolence letters from the Hohenzollerns for the death of their one-time war servant.

August Wilhelm, once heir to the throne, however, was but one among thousands of mourners for the old warrior-statesman.

The body of the president lies in state in a huge room of the ancestral estate he loved so well. Fifty candles flicker nearby.

A special guard of honor, at stiff attention, watches.

Messages From Everywhere

Messages poured in from through the world—from kings and commoners. East Prussian farmers, neighbors of the president, sent expressions of their grief along with letters.

Germany will bid von Hindenburg farewell Tuesday at Tannenberg. The orator will be Adolf Hitler, who gathered to himself the venerable leader's authority on his death yesterday.

Special ceremonies will be held Sunday night at the National War Memorial at Tannenberg—ceremonies from which women will be barred.

An official announcement said: In view of the limited space available, invitations to this ceremony will be issued to male participants only."

Remember Tannenberg

It was at Tannenberg that von Hindenburg in 1914 led the German army to a crushing victory over Russia. Germans, who have much to remember von Hindenburg for, will never forget Tannenberg.

August Wilhelm arrived by airplane this morning. He is staying at the estate of von Hindenburg's old enemy, Elard von Olenburg-Amshausen. The dead president was a loyal subject of the former emperor and often—after Wilhelm fled Germany—was believed to hold monarchist sympathies.

Arrangements have been made for thousands of mourners expected from Berlin to be conveyed to nearby Hohenstein for lodging on special trains.

Services at Tannenberg will begin at 11 A. M. Tuesday (5 A. M. Eastern Standard Time). The body will be placed in one of the high towers on a corner of the monument.

Soldiers To Line Route

It will be taken from Neudeck to Tannenberg on a caisson. Hitler and other leaders will follow in motors behind the coffin over the 60-mile road. Soldiers will line the route on either side.

The spot where von Hindenburg is to be buried is the one where he denounced "the German was guilty" in 1927 when dedicating the monument.

On that occasion he broke the tradition that German presidents should be silent regarding international affairs.

The charge that Germany was the cause of this, greatest of all wars, and the German people in every walk of life reject with unanimity," he said.

"With clean hearts we started out in defense of our fatherland, and with clean hands the German army wielded the sword."

The chief army chaplain will speak for ten minutes preceding Hitler. An orchestra will play Beethoven's "Coriolanus" overture and selections from his "Eroica" symphony during the funeral. At the conclusion an army band will play marches of regiments which von Hindenburg led.

Living Our Everyday Lives

LIFE TEACHING

(By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton)

"Life teaches every man who he is," said Goethe; and happy is the man who learns by living something of what life itself is.

If by forty, someone has said, a man is not his own physician, he is a fool. It is an exaggeration, but there is truth in it. By that time a man ought to know his own body, and how to take good care of it.

By mid-life, if not before, a man ought to know what kind of a mind he has, what he can do, what he cannot do. Time tames us all, teaches us our limits, and he is wise who knows how to use all his powers.

In youth all is uncertain; we do not know exactly what kind of a person we are. We try to be all sorts of different people and find we cannot. We are not that sort at all, and there is apt to be a sense of failure.

But by middle-age we either know what sort of person we are, or we have the materials for knowing. We have made our false starts, struck our stride, and see, dimly or plainly, the path marked out for our feet.

At least we now know that we must be the best kind of person of the kind that we are, since it is fatal to try to be some other kind. This makes life simpler, and the path into the future a little clearer.

By fifty surely, we ought to know something of our personality, not all of it, because it is deep and full of mystery. We may know what sort of person we are, but not how great that kind of person can be.

The years should have taught us what is real and unreal, what is unreliable and what can be trusted. We should have a faith, a philosophy, a set of principles by which to be guided along the way.

If we have achieved poise without passion, serenity without sloth, lightness without levity, and know how to work without strain and to rest without idling, we are winning from life the wisdom it has for us.

Nay more, if we know how to love, how to hope, how to pray, how to lend a hand and help to

MANY NEW CAMPS TO BE STARTED IN ILLINOIS BY CCC

State Will Have Total of 71 Camps In Operation
This Winter

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Illinois will have 71 Civilian Conservation Corps camps employing 18,754 men and boys in operation during the coming winter.

Forty-four of the camps have been established during the past year. The twenty-seven new ones will be started between now and fall.

The Illinois camps, all of which are directed by the National Park Service, are, with few exceptions, managed by the state departments of public works and conservation.

Seven of the existing 44 camps are managed directly by the government. Five more of this type are to be added.

Of the remaining 37 camps already established 26 are managed by Robert Kingery, director of the public works department, and nine are directed by Charles F. Thompson, head of the conservation department. Kingery will handle 13 of the new camps and Thompson will have nine more.

Improving State Parks

Most of Kingery's camps have been engaged in constructing permanent improvements in state parks. This work will be continued during the coming year by both the old and new camps.

Thompson's camps are engaged primarily in work designed to prevent soil erosion and in reforestation.

Kingery estimates the 26 camps he has directed during the past year have constructed $1,100,000 of permanent improvements in state parks. The park program, he says, has been placed more than five years ahead of schedule by the CCC.

Comfort stations have been placed in most of the parks, shelters of all sizes and types have been built, trails have been constructed, sewage treatment plants erected, water supplies purified, and much work in reforestation accomplished.

Aid to Farmers

Thompson's soil erosion camps have built 18,000 check dams on 300 farms, increasing the value of more than 44,000 acres of land. The federally directed camps have done most of their work on road and trail projects.

Each camp has about 250 enrollees, 11 supervisory officials and three arms officers. The supervisory officials direct the various projects on which the camps are engaged, manage the finance, each and supervise recreation. The army officers are in charge of discipline.

Enrollees receive $30 a month, $5 of which they retain and the remainder of which goes to their dependents.

Before the youths are sent to the camps they are conditioned at army posts.

At the present time the enrollees who will be assigned to the new Illinois camps are training at Jefferson Barracks near St. Louis and at Fort Sheridan near Chicago.

Boys Gain in Weight

The first CCC camps established in Illinois started in June, 1933. It was found that enrollees had made an average gain of 20 pounds in weight during the year. Except in cases where an enrollee has shown unusual ability the term of service is limited to one year.

The many advantages of the CCC to the state can be estimated. Kingery said. Not only are the youths taken from the streets, fed and clothed and developed physically, but the money they are paid goes far in aiding their dependents. In addition, the state is receiving numerous benefits in the way of reforestation, permanent improve-
